ISC West Returns to March, Registrations Outpacing 2021

After several years of disruption, security expo and conference ISC West returns to its traditional March spot on the calendar. Event organizers say registered attendance is pacing well ahead of last year at this time and the number of exhibitors has already doubled 2021.

The Covid-19 pandemic forced the cancellation of ISC West entirely in 2020 and resulted in a move to July last year. The schedule change, along with persisting travel restrictions for many businesses, limited attendance at what has become the security industry's largest annual event. Industry stakeholders, however, agree that having...

Drones Dropping Contraband Into Prisons Highlights Challenge For Security Pros

Prisons are experiencing a problem that many security departments trying to protect secure facilities or critical infrastructure are facing. How do you defend against small, unmanned vehicles infiltrating a secure perimeter? The upcoming ISC West event in Las Vegas will feature several sessions as part of the SIA Education@ISC program that address this challenge.

In a recent story in South Carolina, seventy grams of marijuana were nearly dropped...
